

Mr. David J. Gauthier Biography

Chief Strategy Officer, GXO Inc.

Senior Associate, Center for Strategic & International Studies (CSIS)

Fellow, National Security Institute at George Mason University

David Gauthier brings over 28 years of experience and leadership in U.S. national security as an intelligence officer and strategic innovator. He is currently the Chief Strategy Officer of GXO, Inc., helping commercial space integrate with national security missions. Mr. Gauthier is also a Senior Associate with the Center for Strategic Intelligence Studies (CSIS) and a Fellow with the National Security Institute at George Mason University.

Mr. Gauthier served in the Senior Executive Service at the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA), leading organizations such as Commercial Operations, Strategic Operations, and Persistent GEOINT. He was also the first Chair of the Intelligence Community's Commercial Space Council.

Mr. Gauthier earned M.S. degrees in both Aerospace Engineering and Telecommunications Science from the University of Colorado at Boulder and a B.S. degree in Electrical Engineering from the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute (RPI). He is the recipient of several awards including a National Intelligence Professional Award, Meritorious Civilian Service Medal, and the Presidential Rank Award.

Current as of April 2026