

CONFIDENTIAL

MEET THE PLAYERS OF THE THRILLER NOVEL:

SINCERELY, THE BOSS
BY WAHIDA CLARK & AMY MORFORD

CONFIDENTIAL

CASE STUDY

Margo Harris was a woman who had it all; family, children, a successful career as an attorney at a prestigious firm and on the fast track to making partner. Margo's world crumbles before her when an associate, Jay Cook, frames her for a crime she didn't commit and she is convicted and sentenced to six years in prison.

A year after Margo's release from prison she lives a monotonous existence in a run-down motel while working three menial jobs to numb the pain of the strained relationship she has with her children and her ex-husband.

Margo looks forward to the morning banter with Sal Mazzillo, a regular in the diner she works at. The flirtation and sexual tension between them is unmistakable but Margo knows Sal is an unattainable married man who lives on the fringes of the law as a powerful mafia boss. When Margo accepts a business proposition from Sal she is thrust into the realm of helping thugs and criminals fight back against the legal system. The same system that screwed her over.

The sexual tension between Sal and Margo continues to build and Margo knows she needs to keep their relationship professional because Sal is not only her boss but a married man. Sal's charm and the desires of the flesh over rule right from wrong. Clients keep Margo busy during the week while Saturday evenings are reserved for Sal who keeps her busy between the sheets. Being a mistress is uncharted territory for Margo who is morally conflicted.

Margo meets Senator Marcus Mazzillo, Sal's nephew, and helps him get a case dismissed. To repay her, Marcus puts the moves on her with a passionate kiss. Margo's body responds and she reciprocates before coming to her senses and quickly putting a stop to Marcus's advances. Margo is immediately guilt ridden and ashamed of her behavior. She vows to stay clear of Marcus and his boyish good looks.

Margo works at rebuilding her relationship with her children but the process is slow. Margo's ex-husband, David, kept the children out of her life while she was incarcerated and lied to their kids. Margo suspects David is lying about more than meets the eye and discovers he's not the man she thought he was. Margo is furious with David but realizes the power has shifted in their relationship.

Sal's organization is under investigation and FBI Agent Jake Richards summons Margo to his office to question her about her involvement with the Mazzillo family. Margo tells Agent Richards nothing but leaves his office shaken to her core. Over the next few weeks Agent Richards tries to persuade Margo to turn against Sal. Margo divulges nothing but as she gets to know Jake she finds herself attracted to him which further clouds her judgment about Sal.

Still determined to clear her name, Margo uncovers more questions than answers and finds herself relying on Sal more than she should. Margo is in love with a dangerous man that she can't have and afraid she is falling deeper and deeper in a world she can't escape.

This breathtakingly sensual and suspenseful ride will have you questioning what real love means in a web of intricate stories and ... are people really who they say they are?

CONFIDENTIAL

Margo is an only child who grew up in Brooklyn, New York to substance addicted parents who relied on government assistance. Margo vowed from an early age to do better for herself. At eighteen Margo left home and never looked back putting herself through college and law school.

Before being falsely convicted for a crime she didn't commit, Margo appeared to be living the American dream. Husband, two kids, and on the fast track to making partner at the law firm she worked at.

A year after her release from prison, Margo is tall, curvy and still turns heads with long, auburn hair, and intense, green eyes. Margo catches the eye of Mafia Boss Salvatore Mazzillo waiting tables. Before long Margo finds herself working for Sal and mixed up in a world of murder and deceit by day, while looking forward to steamy, passionate nights with her married boss and lover.

Margo is determined to repair her relationship with her children, clear her name, and put her life back together. With Sal's help Margo begins to solve mysteries from her past and discovers that no one is who they pretend to be.

Margo Elizabeth Harris

One of six kids whose parents emigrated from Sicily when he was five. By the age of nine Sal was hustling on the streets and supplementing the family income. By the age of seventeen Sal had taken over the neighborhood and was a bonafied ladies' man. As a devout Catholic, marriage and children soon followed.

Now approaching fifty, Sal is tall and handsome with dark smoldering eyes and sex appeal that won't quit. Sal is a powerful and ruthless mafia boss who runs his organization with an iron fist. Sal believes in loyalty and family above all else.

Salvatore (Sal) Alonso Mazzillo

W•CLARK
PUBLISHING
A STATEMENT IN LITERATURE

CONFIDENTIAL

Life changed forever for nine year old Giovanna the day her father died. Her mother remarried and Giovanna's innocence and childhood was taken by her stepfather whom she hated, feared, and kept secrets all for the sake of her mother and three younger brothers.

As an attractive and calculating teenager, Giovanna is determined to get out of her stepfathers control. Giovanna does the impossible and nets the catch of the neighborhood by becoming Sal's wife and mother of his children. Giovanna has no misconceptions about her husband and is a scorned woman who has been plotting the ultimate revenge on Sal long before she trapped him into marriage.

Giovanna (Gia) Mazzillo

An only child who at the age of eleven lost both of his parents in a fatal car crash. Marcus is taken in and raised by his Uncle Sal and Aunt Giovanna. Marcus is smart, athletic and well-liked by his peers. While his uncle grooms him for the future and his aunt dotes on him Marcus grows into a handsome, educated young man who has the Mazzillo good looks, charm, and a love for the ladies.

Now in his mid-thirties, Marcus is a successful businessman and a newly elected state senator. Marcus is positioning himself to take over the family organization one day.

Marcus Eduardo Mazzillo

CONFIDENTIAL

A shy, tender-hearted college boy with average looks, David became Margo's sweet and supportive husband, and a devoted father. When Margo is convicted and sentenced to prison he abruptly turns his back on her and their marriage. David divorces Margo after she is incarcerated and denies Margo visitation and contact with their children. David's relationship with Margo is hostile under the guise of protecting their children but he is not the man Margo thought she married after his secrets are revealed.

David (Margo's ex-husband and father of her children)

Once a young and pretty girl with hope and dreams, Susan choose a life of substance abuse and barely scraping by. Susan never once regretted having Margo even though she knows she failed her as a parent. Margo and Susan's relationship is strained because of Margo's resentment towards her. After twenty plus years of no contact, Susan is gravely ill and reaches out to Margo. Will Margo give her mother a second chance?

Susan Harris (Margo's mother)

W•CLARK
PUBLISHING
A STATEMENT IN LITERATURE

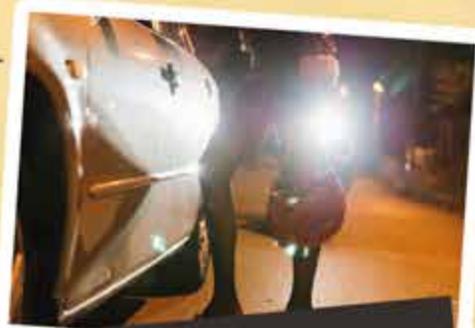

CONFIDENTIAL

Jay is a pretty boy with a frat boy mentality and a privileged upbringing. He isn't interested in earning his way to get what he wants. A rival associate at Margo's former law firm who set her up with false accusations that resulted in her prison sentence. Jay's vendetta against Margo is deeper than a law firm partnership, it's personal.

Jay Cook

Jay Cook's pawn that testified against Margo and detrimental in her conviction. Megan was a naïve girl in her early twenties when she committed perjury to please Jay, who she was in love with. Megan found herself abruptly discarded by Jay and homeless immediately after the trial. Megan turned to drugs and prostitution and the years have not been kind. She is tracked down by Sal and is the key to overturning Margo's case. Will she be able to get clean, stay clean and handle the pressure of righting her wrongs?

Megan Dittmar

Jake has been a FBI agent since his early twenties and the job is who he is. Now in his forties he conducts himself in the grey area of the law and is willing to skew evidence and facts if it expedites justice. He is impressed with Margo who is not like Sal's normal girlfriends from the past. Margo is classy, sexy and smart. He is genuinely concerned for Margo's safety while he chases a dangerous vendetta against Sal Mazzillo. Agent Richards doggedly pursues Sal for the murder of his partner while pursuing Margo into bed.

Jake Richards

W•CLARK
PUBLISHING
A STATEMENT IN LITERATURE

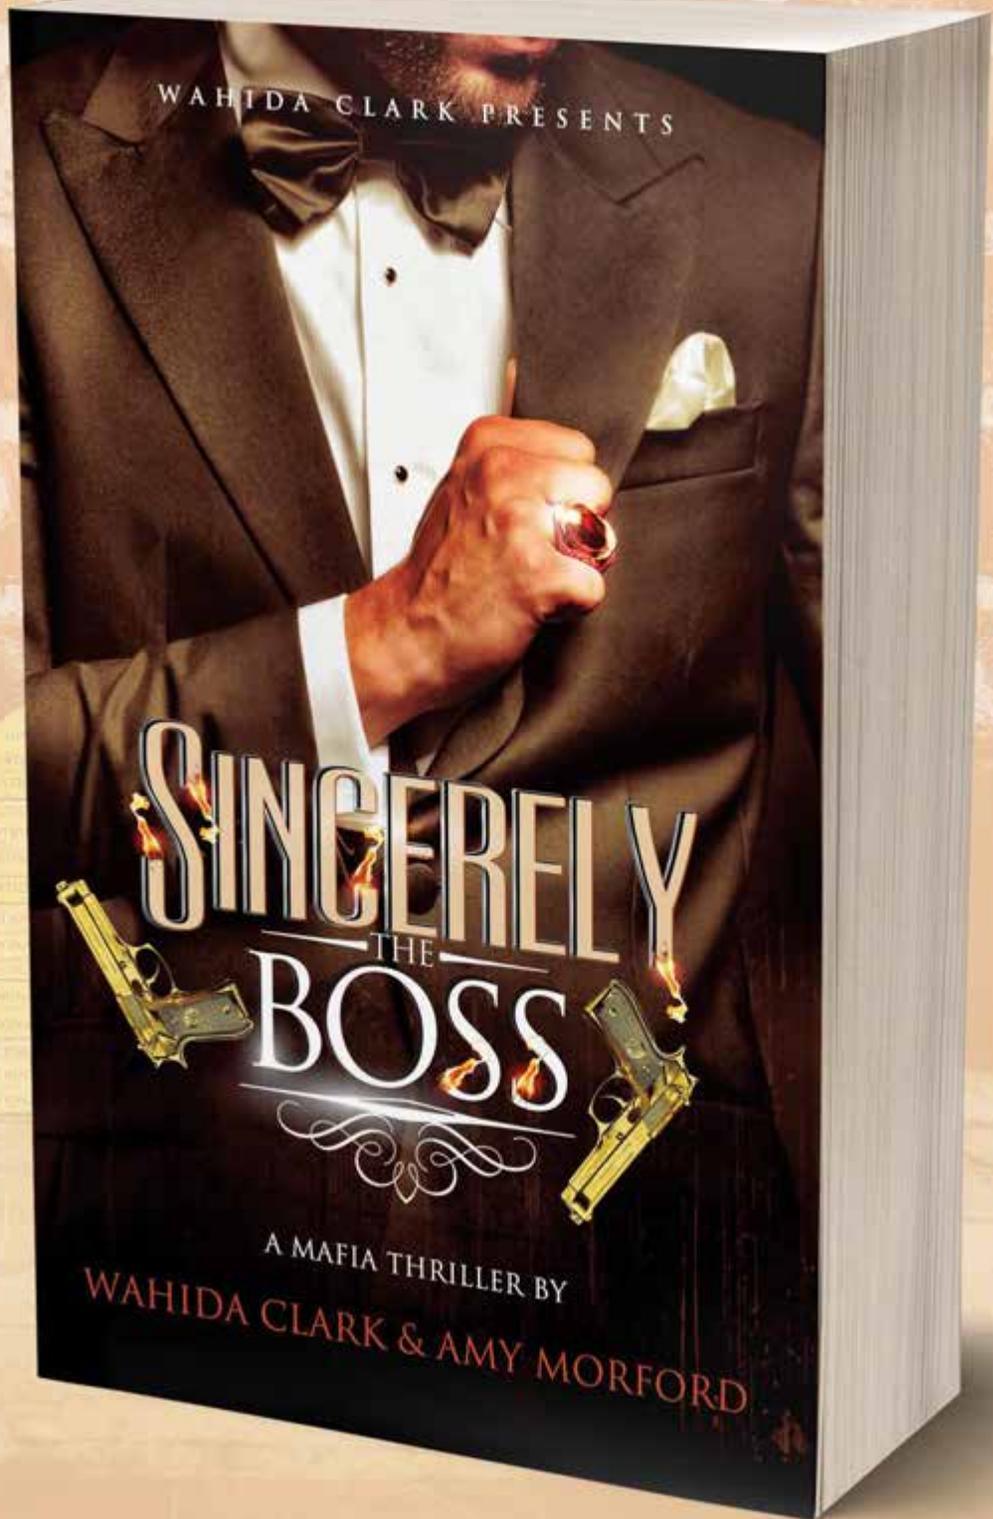

ORDER NOW

ONLY
$15.⁹⁵
+ S/H

SINCERELY, THE BOSS!

has a mixture of romance and action-packed suspense, making this a fast and compelling read.

- Written with New York Times bestselling author, Wahida Clark, this story will resonate with women's fiction, urban fiction, and romance readers alike.

W•CLARK
PUBLISHING
A STATEMENT IN LITERATURE

amazon.com

BARNES & NOBLE

iBooks