Dear Members of the Anvil Paints & Coatings Family:

I hope you, your family and employees are staying healthy and safe.

The safety and health of our employees and you continues to be our #1 concern. For example, at Anvil each person's body temperature is checked with a thermal forehead scan every day, and we have provided face coverings and face shields to all production personnel. Additionally, we constantly disinfect all areas in our buildings and have made disinfectant wipes and hand sanitizer readily available. Finally, we are practicing social distancing and providing further protection with plastic shields between work stations where warranted. While much of our office team is currently working from home, our goal is to continue to provide you with the best customer experience in the industry while protecting the well-being of everyone involved.

We continue to operate within the guidelines of Florida's current executive orders, and remain optimistic as several states have begun to open up for business. This is encouraging, and Anvil is ready to serve you in every way we can. Our facility is operating and our team stands ready to provide you with any needed assistance.

This letter, above all else, is meant to update you on what's going on in the Anvil world, and express our concern for you and the people in your world. Let us know how you are doing, we do want to hear from you! The Anvil community is close knit and we consider you to be a part of our family.

Stay well,

Tom Saeli
