PANKESUM

Our ceramic studio is located in the lush landscapes of northern Thailand. We draw inspiration from the region's rich natural resources, utilizing materials such as mango wood, rubberwood, bamboo, and clay. Our studio is a hub for skilled artisans renowned for their craft, producing a wide range of high-quality ceramics alongside wood and fabric products.

Our tableware can be found in restaurants and hotels throughout Thailand, in the Maldives, and in the US. We are also proud to have supplied products to a James Beard Award-winning chef and a Michelin-starred restaurant.

Note

- Minimum order quantity: 50 pieces per item, negotiable for larger quantities (Pricing depends on quantity).
- For delivery, you have two options: Door-to-Door with cost based on distance and customer pick-up which you arrange for your licensed carrier to collect the goods from our warehouse.
- Typically, our production and delivery time is 14 weeks. However, for bulk orders, we may have stock available for the fastest delivery. Which is within 2 months, subject to additional shipping fees.
- For custom orders, we require a 50% upfront deposit of the total invoice before production begins, with the remaining balance due before shipment.
- Since the ceramics are handmade, the size may vary by approximately 5% - 7% from the dimensions stated in the catalog.
- Most of our products can be tailored to your size and design preferences. You can also discuss branding or logo application and other customization options with us.
- Our ceramics have undergone rigorous testing to ensure they are free from lead and cadmium, making them safe for use in microwaves, dishwashers, and ovens up to 300°C.
- Please feel free to contact us for further pricing inquiries, as they depend on quantities and specific requirements.
- Thank you for considering our products, and we eagerly anticipate the opportunity to collaborate with you.

We are roro

roro's ceramic studio is located in the lush landscapes of northern Thailand. Everything is handmade, using our own clay and glaze formulas.

Ceramic Design and Production

Besides classic techniques, our experienced team specializes in innovative ceramic design, utilizing 3D printing for prototypes and unique product development. For custom orders, please contact us directly.

Manufacturing Expertise

We hand-make up to 7,000 pieces per month
And we can scale up as needed.
We accept projects of all sizes.

Our Facility

Located in Chiang Mai, our boutique studio serves hotels and restaurants in Thailand, the Maldives, and the US. You can also find our a few select products on Amazon.com. We have warehouses in Thailand and in the US.

MENU

For our latest offering, our ceramic pieces are thoughtfully arranged around the four elemental themes — Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water, each expressing a unique character through form, texture, and color.

All plating on RoRo tableware displayed in this catalog is done by humans, and are not AI creations

EARTH

Warm, honest, and rooted in nature. With earthy tones, matte finishes, and raw textures, this collection celebrates materiality in its purest form — rustic, yet refined.

Plating by Chef James,
The Home Of Ikigai,
Chiang Mai, Thailand

Inspired by the soft gradients of morning mist, this collection features warm brown tones fading into creamy neutrals. The subtle radial texture enhances food presentation while adding a handcrafted elegance. Perfect for chefs who want a quiet sophistication on the plate, Mocha Mist works beautifully in both rustic and modern dining settings.

GLOSSY WHITE SPECKLED

A modern interpretation of classic white tableware. Each piece features a glossy white glaze with light speckling, adding subtle texture while maintaining a clean presentation.

The smooth surface reflects light well, while the restrained speckle pattern adds depth without competing with the food. The result is versatile tableware suitable for restaurants, cafés, and everyday service.

WATER

Inspired by movement, tide, and transformation. This collection embraces reactive glazes — where no two pieces are ever the same. The glaze flows, shifts, and settles naturally, creating organic depth and living surfaces.

EMERALD CASCADE

A flowing blue-green glaze breaks over a darker body, creating natural variation with every firing. The exterior is hand-carved with angular grooves that add grip and structure, while the interior remains smooth for service.

RUSTIC CORAL

This is a more rustic take on the coral theme. The outer edges of the plates and bowls are made using our special technique of a thicker glaze - almost like an impressionist painter - to create an amazing texture. The surface is a reactive glaze blend, creating a stunning visual of blues, whites, and black, which reminded us of a shoreline.

BIOLUMINESCENCE

One of nature's most captivating phenomena is captured in this collection—the phosphorescent glow of bioluminescent algae. Imagine streaks of shimmering light stirred up by crashing waves or by a boat gliding through the water at night. That vision became the immediate inspiration for this line.

BLUE RIPPLE

Each piece begins with concentric rings, carved by hand directly into raw clay — no molds, no shortcuts. The exterior is built through no fewer than four separate glaze applications, layered one at a time to achieve the depth and movement of the reactive blue surface. The result is a piece that demands time, precision, and control — a benchmark within our collection.

FOREST & SALT

Two-thirds of the plate is finished in deep forest green, with a contrasting section of lightly speckled white. The darker surface naturally anchors the main component of a dish, while the white area leaves room for garnish, sauce, or contrast.

Pankesum created a small studio in Chiang Mai in 2021, producing hand-made modern styled ceramics. We focused on sales to Thailand hospitality clients, and our goal is to make the best tableware at fantastic prices for hotels and restaurants. We visit and work with countless chefs, F&B Managers, and hotel and restaurant general managers to ensure that we're designing with the right partner in mind.
