

OLASAGASTI

DELICIAS DEL MAR CANTABRICO

Conservas Dentici, SL is a family owned business with a long history in the fish canning industry. It was founded in 1920 in the Basque coast, northern Spain. Since then, they have kept using traditional methods, focused on obtaining high quality products, being a fine example in its sector.

The factory is located in Markina (Bizkaia), next to the fishing port of Ondarroa, which was rebuilt in 1994 and recently restructured to increase its production capacity by 50%.

For the elaboration of the products, they mainly use fresh raw material from the Cantabrian Sea, caught using traditional methods, in a selective and sustainable manner; species such as Bonito del Norte, bluefin tuna, mackerel and anchovy.

The philosophy of the quality of "Olasagasti" and "La Marquinesa", is based on the combination of the following factors:

- Raw material from the Cantabrian Sea.
- Freshly caught fish, processed by hand.
- Highly qualified staff in the handling of fish.
- Modern facilities strategically located next to the ports of the Basque coast.
- Certified quality management system.

Since 1996 the factory has the quality certification UNE-IS O 9001:2000 issued by AENOR.

Their products are healthy and natural, with great nutritional value, suitable for all kinds of diets, especially for cardiovascular diets because they are cholesterol free and rich in Omega-3, natural long chain fatty acids.

None of the fish preserves made by Conservas Dentici contain additives, preservatives or coloring, and do not use genetically modified organisms (GMOs) or synthetic chemicals.

The range of products that Conservas Dentici manufactures, is targeted at the speciality or high-end delicatessen market, as well as select hotels and restaurants.

It has FDA certification and their experience in the U.S. market only goes back a couple of years, are fully committed to expand its presence, knowing that their product, the same way as in Europe, will be widely demanded due to their outstanding quality.
