Politics

As recovering gangsters, we are often targeted by many career-minded individuals in an effort to increase our criminal symptoms. There will be laws written which will make it difficult for us to live simple normal lives.

There will be songs and movies written specifically with the intent to ridicule those who have chosen to live crime-free lives. Crime pays many in our society, when we stop; so does their money.

We may see violence toward innocent men and women by those we would consider peace keepers increase. Many will begin to feel that newcomers insecurity. We often say, "I'll show them," or "If they only knew." These are the times our sponsors' suggestions play major roles in our recovery.
