

The Agriculture Learning (AgLearn) system is USDA's department-wide system for managing training records and activity at USDA. USDA employees use AgLearn to access training opportunities through the web, any time, any place. Learning opportunities in AgLearn include online resources, such as courses, webinars, videos and books, as well as instructor-led training.

Users can also plan their future career development in the system with the online AgLearn Individual Development Plan (IDP) where you can track completed AgLearn courses AND add external courses.

Here is a small sample of some books and courses you can find in AgLearn relating to women and leadership:

ASPIRING LEADER PROGRAM (ALP)

Curriculum ID: USDA.APL.CURR

Description: This program is the beginning of your journey into the development of your leadership skills. You will explore your strengths and increase your knowledge and skills in self-management, accountability, dealing with conflict, customer service, decisiveness, influencing/negotiating, and understanding teams. Self-assign courses in the track at your own pace.

Leadership Essentials Certificate Program

Curriculum ID: USDA.LECP.CURR.2015

Description: The Leadership Essentials Certificate Program is designed for those who are currently in roles that require advanced leadership skills. The program is not a replacement for any Agency leadership programs and is not intended to be used in place of Agency programs. The LECP provides a blended learning experience and uses a combination of on-line AgLearn courses, Books 24x7, mentoring, and other experiences to enhance understanding of leadership competencies and broaden knowledge. Self-assign courses in the track at your own pace.
