

TIMOTHY F. BISHOP
Deputy to the Commanding General
U.S. Army Space and Missile Defense Command

Mr. Timothy F. Bishop was appointed to the Senior Executive Service in January 2019 and serves as Deputy to the Commanding General, United States Army Space and Missile Defense Command (USASMDC). As the senior civilian in the command, he provides leadership supporting the Commanding General's priorities, initiatives, and directed areas of responsibilities. Mr. Bishop provides oversight and direction for USASMDC's Technical Center and Center of Excellence, Army Space and Missile Defense programs, command acquisition, proponentcy, contracting, personnel, and resource management. Mr. Bishop has extensive professional leadership experience in a variety of government acquisition positions involving the development, testing, production, fielding, sustainment, and Life Cycle support of major Space, Stratospheric Warfare, Strategic Missile Defense, and Simulation, Training, and Instrumentation systems.

Mr. Bishop's previous assignment was Director, Space and Missile Defense Center of Excellence, USASMDC, responsible for Space, Stratospheric Warfare, and Strategic Missile Defense Doctrine and Training, Concept Development, Decision Support, the Transformation Integration Directorates for Space Superiority and Army Golden Dome for America, and the Office of the Commandant of Space and Missile Defense. In this position he was the Executive Agent responsible for Army Space Operations Officers (FA40).

Mr. Bishop's previous Senior Executive Position was as the Deputy Program Executive Officer for the Program Executive Office, Simulation, Training and Instrumentation (PEO STRI) where he managed a portfolio of 268 programs executing a $3.0B annual budget and over 335,000 training devices in 19 foreign countries; and 386 sites worldwide.

Mr. Bishop is a graduate from the University of Alabama – Huntsville, graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Electrical and Computer Engineering. He holds a Master of Science in Strategic Studies from the U.S. Army War College in Carlisle, PA.

Mr. Bishop's awards and recognition include the AUSA Redstone-Huntsville Chapter Department of the Army Civilian of the Year Award; AUSA Redstone-Huntsville Management/Executive (Senior Executive) of the Year Award; Superior Civilian Service Medal from Program Executive Office for Simulation, Training, and Instrumentation; Superior Civilian Service Medal from Installation Management Command – Europe; Top Ten Outstanding Personnel of the Year from Army Test and Evaluation Command; and the Global War on Terrorism Medal awarded by the Department of Defense.

October 2026

