

Patrick J. Donahue II

Vice President

Army and Special Operations Forces (SOF) Programs

Lockheed Martin Government Affairs

Mr. Patrick Donahue is Vice President of Army and SOF Programs for Lockheed Martin Corporation. In this role he is the corporation's principal liaison with Army and SOF senior levels in support of programs, marketing efforts, legislative strategies and policy priorities. He also supports strategic and operational plans and program development activities for all Army & SOF programs.

Mr. Donahue joined Lockheed Martin in August 2017 after completing 37 years of distinguished service in the United States Army and retiring as a Lieutenant General. Previously, Mr. Donahue was the Deputy Commanding General for U.S. Army Forces Command at Fort Bragg, North Carolina where he was responsible for manning, training, equipping, maintaining, mobilizing and deploying all U.S.-based active and reserve Army units.

Mr. Donahue was a career Infantry Officer. He commanded units in nearly every echelon of the Army including an Airborne Brigade in the 82nd Airborne Division, Deputy Commanding General of 3rd Infantry Division, and commander of United States Army Africa located in Vicenza, Italy. He has served five combat deployments to Iraq and Afghanistan with various corps and divisions. He has also served multiple tours on the Army Staff and in U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command.

He holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the United States Military Academy, a Master's Degree in Public Administration from the Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University and a Masters in Strategic Studies degree from the Army War College. Fluent in German, Mr. Donahue is an Olmsted Scholar who studied International Relations at the University of Innsbruck, Austria. He is also a Distinguished Graduate of the Air Command and Staff College. The U.S. Army Infantry Association recognized him with its highest award, the Primicerius of the Order of St. Maurice, the patron saint of the Infantry. He has received numerous military awards, notably three Army Distinguished Service Medals.