

Cheryl Lueckenbach Gibson

Majoring in Elementary Education/Special Education at formerly Concord College, Athens WV, Cheryl taught exceptional learners in several districts and agencies, including Department of Defense, in a variety of capacities for seventeen years. During her time in Germany with DODDS, she met her husband, Brian who was a young Army Air Defense Officer.

Most of her married life, Cheryl enjoyed being a homemaker and raising their two boys. She has volunteered and engaged in many educational supports for her children. MS Gibson has additionally volunteered for Family Support Groups, advisory and board positions within the Air Defense Community.

Cheryl currently enjoys volunteering at the Fort Meyer Thrift Shop, gardening, and riding her electric tricycle around DC.