

Catherine “Katie” Kolb

Teacher | Project Assistant

Ebenezer Preschool | Harvard
Business School Executive Education

Catherine “Katie” Kolb is an experienced education professional and project assistant with a passion for learning, leadership, and professional development. She currently works remotely for Harvard Business School’s Executive Education Program as the Project Assistant for its five Comprehensive Leadership Programs, supporting program operations, coordinating participant communications, and helping create meaningful learning experiences for leaders and executives from around the world.

Katie has worked in education for 17 years, including more than 14 years of classroom experience. Her background includes teaching preschool, educating and supporting elementary students, guiding sixth graders through the transition into their teen years, and training educators through her role as an Active Learning Leader. She currently serves as the lead teacher for a Pre-Kindergarten classroom at Ebenezer Preschool in Stafford, Virginia, balancing her classroom responsibilities with her work at Harvard with enthusiasm and dedication.

Katie earned a Bachelor of Science in Education, a Bachelor of Arts in Honors, and a minor in Spanish from the University of North Dakota. She later earned a Master of Arts in Education in Curriculum and Instruction from St. Catherine University in St. Paul, Minnesota. Between 2015 and 2017, she completed an additional 315 continuing education credit hours and was inducted into Pi Lambda Theta in recognition of her academic achievement and commitment to the field of education.

In addition to her professional work, Katie remains actively involved in her community and in her own children’s education. She frequently volunteers at their school and is an active member of its Parent-Teacher Organization. She currently serves as the head coach for both of her children’s soccer teams and has coached during both the fall and spring seasons since 2023. She is currently in her eighth season as a volunteer youth soccer coach. In 2017, Katie received the Golden Rose Award for her contributions to the Military Intelligence community, recognizing her service and leadership.

Katie brings a thoughtful, organized, and people-centered approach to supporting learners, educators, program participants, leaders, and executives. She lives in Stafford, Virginia, with her husband, Jared, and their two children, Hannah (9) and Cooper (7).
