

Natashia L. Coleman

Project Manager, Simulation (PM SIM)
Office of Capability Program Executive for Simulations Test
Training and Threat (CPE ST3)
U.S. Army, Colonel

Colonel Natasha Coleman is the Project Manager for Simulations (PM SIM) at CPE ST3, formally known as PEO STRI. She is responsible for next generation virtual and constructive training solutions enabling multi-domain operations to replicate realistic kinetic and non-kinetic capabilities in a joint warfighter's training environment. For over the past 15+ years, she's served in various defense program management roles delivering integrated next generation command and control information technologies, cyber & network compliance, micro sensors, uncrewed air and ground systems, and standoff reconnaissance & surveillance capabilities.

She has served as the special assistant to the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Acquisitions Logistics and Technology (ASA(ALT)). Prior to serving on the Army Staff, she served as the Joint Product Manager for Reconnaissance & Platform Integration, assigned to Joint Project Manager (JPM) CBRN Sensors, Joint Program Executive Officer for Chemical, Biological, Radiological and Nuclear Defense (JPEO CBRND) from June 2022-June 2024.

Colonel Coleman served as the Product Manager for Unified Network Capabilities and Integration (UNCI), assigned to the Project Manager (PM) Tactical Network, Program Executive Office for Command, Control, Communications-Network (PEO C3N) from Jan 2020-June 2022.

Natashia is advanced certified in defense acquisition program management. Her advanced education includes a bachelor's degree in accounting, Master of Arts in human resource development and Master of Strategic Studies.

Her military education includes Signal Officer basic and advanced courses, Adjutant General advanced course, U.S. Army Command & General Staff College, and U.S. Army War College.

Colonel Coleman has served in the Army for over 28 years and has held numerous command and staff positions in various logistics, signal, acquisition, and operational assignments over the course of her career. She served a combat tour in Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom (OIF). Other previous assignments include: Platoon Leader, Automations Officer and Assistant Brigade S6, Assistant Force Integration Readiness Officer; OCS Training, Advising and Counseling (TAC) Instructor, HHC Company Commander with the 233rd Regional Training Institute; Contingency Contracting Management Officer; Resource Management & Organizational Readiness Instructor at the NGB Professional Education Center; Mission Command Systems Coordinator and Requirements Analyst, Assistant Product Manager for the Commander's Risk Reduction Program, Deployed Theater Accountability System (DTAS), and the Tactical Personnel System (TPS) and Acquisition Career / Talent Manager.

Colonel Coleman resides in Orlando Florida where her team is collocated on University of Central Florida Research Park Campus, working in a "Team Orlando" joint modeling and simulations environment with Navy, Airforce & Marine Corps. When not working, you can find Natasha on the pickle ball courts or traveling with some of her favorite family and friends.