

Ann Morrison has been part of the Army community for more than 40 years, beginning when she met and married her husband, LTG (Ret.) John B. Morrison, Jr., in 1985 at their alma mater, James Madison University. A native of McLean, VA, Ann remained actively involved in nonprofit organizations both on post and in the surrounding communities while raising their four daughters.

Her volunteer service grew into a successful, portable career spanning more than three decades. Through AMorrison Consulting LLC, Ann helps nonprofit organizations strengthen their missions through fundraising and development, strategic planning, board and staff training, executive searches, and organizational development. She also serves as Vice President of Development for the National Defense University Foundation and continues her commitment to community service as a member of the Capital Speakers Club, Welcome to Washington, and the Salvation Army Auxiliary.
